William Fley

The Mindfulness Network for People of Colour
and the forgiveness model of mindfulness

Mindfulness in Schools Project Forgiveness in Education A presentation by William Fley Mindfulness network for people of colour

Defining forgiveness

'Continuation of the labour of mourning' ('Forgiveness in Intimate relationships') by Shahrzad Siassi

'When unjustly hurt by another, we forgive when we overcome the resentment toward the offender, not by denying our right to the resentment, but instead by trying to offer the wrongdoer compassion, benevolence, and love; as we give these, we as forgivers realize that the offender does not necessarily have a right to such gifts'. (Enright- 'Forgiveness Therapy')

What forgiveness is not

- Pardoning
- Forgetting
- Saying it
- Reconciliation
- A quick fix
- Tolerating
- A sense of weakness or flaw
- Condoning
- Accepting an apology
- A cognitive process
- Moving on
- Self-centred
- Absolving
- Allowing time to fix it

Why do we need to forgive?

- ▶ They wouldn't let me play in their football team
- ▶ He pushed in front of me in the lunch queue
- ▶ She called me names
- ▶ He pushed me over in the playground
- ▶ She didn't invite me to her birthday party
- ▶ The teacher picked on me in class

How do we respond to conflict, uncertainty and vulnerability ?

First Impressions- The initial response is an impulsive need to retaliate, defend and disconnect.

Establishing power- by disempowering others> It feels good, sets clear boundaries and perhaps prevents future offences

Reality check - But it comes at a price – poor quality friendships, peer rejection and ‘ social withdrawal, psychological tension between friends, heavy burden of anger and vengeance

But there is an alternative

Training in forgiveness and mindfulness involves :

- ▶ Social awareness - Understanding protected characteristics
- ▶ Self-management - a buffer against conflict, interpersonal hurt
- ▶ Relationship skills - increased self-esteem
- ▶ Responsible decision making - preventing reciprocal conflict
- ▶ Empathy growth - reducing social anxiety

Children may learn forgiveness within the family

- ▶ Parents who are more forgiving to their children receive more forgiveness from their children
- ▶ Children learn forgiveness behaviour modelled by their parents
- ▶ Ways that parents can help include around emotional regulation, and discuss how often people do hurtful things by accident
- ▶ Template for current interpersonal relationships
- ▶ Intersectionality, homosexuality & race
- ▶ Tired of hiding & endless search
- ▶ A therapist's blind spots

What can schools do? (1)

Within the school community:

- ▶ Create a caring school community
- ▶ Lead by example
- ▶ Create a forgiving climate
- ▶ Be seen to treat staff and colleagues fairly

What can schools do? (2)

Within the classroom:

- ▶ Explain and discuss the concept of forgiveness – what it is and what it is not
- ▶ Ask the class to identify occasions when they were offended, how they responded and how that left them feeling
- ▶ Explain the benefits of forgiveness
- ▶ Take some of the pupils' specific examples and explore how they could have been handled through forgiveness
- ▶ Encourage the class to be creative, for example a forgiveness poster or a newsletter
- ▶ Get the class to think about who they would like to be more forgiving towards. Put this on a handprint and create a circle of forgiveness

Thank you.

We are a secular organisation with the mission to make mindfulness accessible to People of Colour, who are underrepresented in the industry, both as practitioners and end-users.

We are sensitive to our members' sense of history and need for belonging under the broad term 'POC'.

This network has been established as a showcase for mindfulness teachers and those who want to learn, share and develop mindfulness for POC and its future.

Our mission includes:

- Establishing networks and training routes for POC within organisations which provide mindful based services.
- Promoting cultural wisdom-learning and shaping inclusivity within shared spaces for 'POC'.
- Sharing learning practices and methods which enhances our sense of shared humanity and connection.

Disrupting our autopilot...

Welcome ... to our 2020 Conference!

A very warm welcome to you all to our 2020 conference 'Teaching Mindfully'. We are delighted to have you all here to join us to hear some inspirational and informative talks and share some practice together today.

When we originally planned this conference, we intended to be meeting you all in person at a school venue in London. Instead, we are meeting online in a virtual environment. This is a great opportunity to connect with each other, to share ideas, to learn from each other, and to be part of a community that is working together to bring mindfulness into schools.

But disruption is not always a bad thing. It can be a chance to start again, to try something new, to be creative, to be resilient, to be brave. It can be a chance to disrupt our autopilot, to break out of our comfort zone, to do things we never thought we could do. It can be a chance to bring mindfulness into schools in a way that is truly transformative.

I like to think of the practice of mindfulness as constant disruption. When we practice mindfulness we are asking 'What is going on right now?' and 'What is my role in this?' We are disrupting our autopilot, we are breaking out of our comfort zone, we are doing things we never thought we could do. We are bringing mindfulness into schools in a way that is truly transformative.

School 'leaders' and teachers have realised something that most of us in schools have known for a very long time. Mindfulness has focused on the present moment, on the here and now, on the things that are right in front of us. It is about being fully present, about being fully engaged, about being fully alive. It is about bringing mindfulness into schools in a way that is truly transformative.

2021 MiSP Community Diversity Audit

Mindfulness in Schools Project aims to create a culture that respects and values each other's differences. We see these differences as an asset to our culture and our work, as they improve our ability to meet the needs of the organisation and people we serve.

We aim to welcome everyone, and recognise and develop the potential of all individuals in our community. The information you provide on this form will help us to monitor and assess how we are doing in terms of equality, diversity and inclusion.

The questions below are modelled on the Census 2021 which underwent wide consultation with stakeholders. The data you provide will be anonymous and treated confidentially in accordance with our Data Protection Policy.

Supporting your teaching...

Teaching Skills Workshops

Continue to develop your mindfulness teaching with this series of free, 90-minute, structured workshops providing rich ongoing training for our .b and Paws b teachers to:

- Explore core themes and skills
- Develop mindfulness teaching competencies
- Build connections with others in this sector
- Access expert guidance on implementing mindfulness in schools

Teacher Surgeries

Drop in to these regular 60 - 90-minute 'surgery' sessions with your specific questions on teaching a particular practice or lesson, or to discuss key aspects of teaching MiSP curricula. Everyone is welcome whether you are new to teaching our curricula or have been teaching it for years! We will be running separate surgeries for:

- Paws b
- .b
- Alternative Provision

SLT Presentations

Why not get MiSP to speak to your headteachers, senior leaders, governors, and any other staff at school who would benefit from hearing from us direct? A free webinar could include:

- What mindfulness is and isn't
- The research evidence around potential benefits
- What it looks like in a school context
- The steps to bringing mindfulness to your school

Information Webinars

We now offer free 45-minute live, online, Information Webinars to support those interested in finding out how to bring mindfulness to their school, this will be followed by a 15 minute Q & A session.

Supporting your practice...

Hub Sits

Exclusively for Hub members (including those who have completed .begin) these Sitting Groups are a chance to sit together and share practice. Hosted on Zoom, Hub Sits occur roughly every two weeks and are usually in the evening. The sessions last for about an hour.

To register for a Hub Sit you will need to sign into your Hub account and click on the appropriate link on the Hub Sits page.

Teacher Retreats

We provide regular one-day online weekend retreats to anyone who is working in an education or a schools-related context, and has completed a recognised eight-week adult mindfulness course. These five-hour retreats will be a day of coming together as educators to reconnect with and/or deepen practice, we hope you can join us!

MiSP SML Sits are an online group mindfulness practice and discussion for MiSP Hub members who have completed the School Mindfulness Lead course.

#SchoolsSitTogether
MiSP #SchoolsSitTogether events bring our national and international community together online for a group mindfulness practice.

Every so often, we invite the worldwide educational community to join us in a series of free online daily practices. These drop-in sessions are intended to nourish, support and connect us with each other, and everyone is welcome.

Hosting experts...

Guest Workshops

Autumn 2021 Series

We are delighted to host a series of workshops exploring themes relating to mindfulness and inclusion.

Our Guest Workshops are led by experts from around the world and will provide a rich opportunity for you to explore a variety of topics and reflect on how mindfulness supports you and your teaching.

Inviting the Experts ...

CPD Webinar Series

In this series of free webinars, Mindfulness in Schools Project invites specialist speakers to bring expertise and insight to our community of educators.

Themes are on topics relevant to our community of teachers and those working in and alongside schools and other educational establishments. Sessions will be delivered live, and will usually last approximately 60 minutes each. We will provide certification for CPD records, and webinars will be recorded and available to watch again as videos in our Hub.

Definitions

Class

Relative social rank in terms of income, wealth, education, status and/or power

Classism

Differential treatment based on social or perceived social class. Classism is the systematic oppression of subordinated class groups to advantage and strengthen the dominant class groups. It's the systematic assignment of characteristics of worth and ability based on social class

Individual Classism

This term refers to classism on a personal or individual level, either in behaviour or attitudes, either conscious and intentional, or unconscious and unintentional

Institutionalised Classism

This term refers to the ways in which intentional and unintentional classism is manifest in the various institutions of our society

‘I thought ‘Thank God! Someone with a northern accent! I’d never met another gay woman with a working class background and accent in this field, being able to truly be myself was so empowering. I’ve carried this with me since’

Survey Respondent (Power, 2019)

She has an immediate, reflexive “No” reaction to the email. Familiar thoughts, feelings, and experiences of being ignored due to being in marginalised groups flash through her mind. ...everything in her rejects any suggestion that anyone would be interested in what she has to say

An Auto ethnography of a Working-Class Gay Woman Becoming a Mindfulness Teacher,
Lynne Wheeler (part of masters degree at Bangor University)

Those who make the decisions in any field (whether educational, occupational, intellectual, or artistic) resonate with and reward those whose cultural capital (taste in food, humour, media, clothes) is similar to their own. Conscious intention to discriminate by favouring one's own class is not necessary for privilege to be perpetuated

Bourdieu (2014)

'I used to try and talk differently. I've educated myself. I used to feel shame that I didn't have a degree, but I now I feel this is my power, it's my difference, my unique life experiences. I'm proud to look back on my struggles and see where I have brought myself'

Why

Why we value what we value?
 What values are we guided by?
 What do we consider good or bad? right or wrong?
 Beautiful or not?
 Are we all neutral?
 Why is kindness important?
 Why or why not equality, diversity and Inclusion as ethics in mindfulness?

What

The nature of human beings, what are we?
 Purpose of our existence, Individuals, society and universe. Who are we, why are we here? Do we make real free will choices? Do external forces control outcomes eg systems, society? Are we best understood as individuals or a group?

 I can change it – Individual view

How

How do we acquire knowledge / knowing
 How do we know what we claim to know?
 Explicit Knowledge – Is it true that books research statistics etc are factual?
 Tacit Knowledge – Experiential
 Is it about who feels it knows it?
 Perception, Perspective
 Is knowledge a relative social construction?
 Is knowledge whatever we say it is then?
 Does absolute objective knowledge exist?

Professor Kiki Messiou

How to include all learners

Including all learners in schools

"Including all: Teachers and Learners" Mindfulness in Schools Project (MiSP) Conference, 19th June 2021

Prof Kiki Messiou, University of Southampton, UK,
k.messiou@soton.ac.uk

How can schools include all learners, by focusing on dialogues between learners and teachers?

Features of inclusion

- Inclusion is a process
- Inclusion is concerned with the identification and removal of barriers
- Inclusion is about the presence, participation and achievement of all students
- Inclusion involves a particular emphasis on those groups of learners who may be at risk of marginalisation, exclusion or underachievement

(Ainscow, 2007)

Inclusion and students' voices

- Inclusion is about everyone having opportunities for choice and self-determination. In education, it means listening to and valuing what children have to say, regardless of age or labels.
(Mittler, 2000)
- Listening to children's and young people's voices is in itself a manifestation of being inclusive
(Messiou, 2006)

"Reaching the 'hard to reach': inclusive responses to diversity through child-teacher dialogue" (2017-2020)

Research agenda

To find ways of reaching out to all of our students, especially those seen as being

'hard to reach'

Who are the 'hard to reach'?

- Any child can be seen as 'hard to reach' at some point in school
- Through Inclusive Inquiry we focus on how lessons can be hard to reach sometimes, rather than blaming 'hard to reach' children
- We aim to develop more inclusive lessons through dialogues between children and teachers

What did the project involve?

- Three cycles of collaborative action research
- Researchers supported and monitored the developments in schools
- Impact on teachers' thinking and practices
- Impact on all children's engagement, particularly those seen as 'hard to reach'

Phase 1: Plan

Phase 2: Teach

Phase 3: Analyse

The Levels of Use Framework	Rating
Phase 1: Plan
1.1 A trio of teachers has been formed to carry out action research
1.2 The trio has agreed about which will be their research lesson
1.3 The trio has involved a group of student researchers in collecting evidence to support the design of the research lesson
1.4 A lesson plan has been developed that sets out to ensure that all members of the class are engaged in all the activities
1.5 The three teachers and the student researchers have all contributed to the design of the lesson plan
Phase 2: Teach
2.1 Each teacher has used the lesson plan with their class
2.2 On each occasion, the two colleagues and student researchers observed the responses of class members
2.3 The views of all students about the lesson were gathered
2.4 After each lesson, teachers and student researchers met to review what has happened, focusing on the engagement of all members of the class
2.5 The trio refined the lesson plan before it was used by the next member of the trio
Phase 3: Analyse
3.1 After completing all three lesson plans, the trio and student researchers discussed their impact on the engagement of all members of the classes
3.2 The trio and student researchers drew conclusions regarding what was been learned about making lessons inclusive

Impacts include:

On students:

- Engagement in lessons
- Improvements in confidence
- Including children with history of difficult behaviour

Improved relationships:

- Between children
- Between teachers
- Between children and teachers

Teacher development:

- Focus on details of practice
- Becoming more sensitive regarding individual pupils
- Sharing techniques

Before I was a pupil researcher, when teacher asked anyone to answer the questions, I never put my hand up because I didn't have my confidence. And when I was a pupil researcher, I put my hand up.

Final thoughts

...practitioners and students embark on journeys all the time. Those collaborative journeys can be seen as ways of reaching out to all learners and creating schools that are all the more inclusive.

Mindfulness and the reluctant learner

About me

Flintshire Portfolio PRU, in North Wales, which has just recently been rebranded to Plas Derwen. There are currently 5 centres in total, all in different locations, but come September we will be moving into a brand new , purpose built school.

I'm the operational manager for the 3 behavioural centres covering key stages 2 to 4. Though I'm mostly based in the key stage 3 centre.

My journey into Mindfulness

Union sponsored .b foundations course

Paws b Course

.b Course

School Lead

MBSR Course

The Present Course

Why Mindfulness for me and how I've implemented it so far.

What's worked?

- KS2 small group work
- KS3 largely 1:1
- Short sessions. Mixture of science facts and practices
- Explaining its uses in the 'real world'
- .b and 7/11 breathing

Important messages

- Thoughts aren't real
- Everything changes

What next?

- Embed mindfulness into the culture of the new build
- Further partnership work with the Learning Disability Service
- Continue to improve my own practice and get the message out there!
